VENUE: Pallava Hall

REPORT

Youth Red Cross of our college organized a Seminar on “Nature Nurtures the Education of Life Skills” on 20.02.2018 in Pallava Hall at 10.00am. Mr.Eyarkkai Chinnaiya Natesan, veteran modern agriculture scientist and president, Indian Nature Association, consented and delivered his speech on this occasion.

The seminar began with the prayer song followed by the welcome speech and guest introduction by Mr.K.Albert Lawrence, Co-ordinator of Youth Red Cross (YRC). He introduced the chief guest with the words appreciation for having been awarded ‘Empowering Young People Award’ by Young Yoga Foundation and ‘Special Award’ by All India Tamil Cultural Corporation.

The chief guest delivered his speech insisting on the importance of bringing back the cultural habits of elderly habitats of Tamilnadu to lead a hale and healthy life. Our elders lived their life in harmony with the nature which nurtured many lessons in their habitual life to lead the life of prosperity. Then he was in praise of Tamil Literature and Culture which remain as the guiding principle to the people of today and especially the student community. Thus students must learn the art of living from the nature which would be a very good guide for emotional intelligence as the present student community suffers from emotional imbalance having meager knowledge in the art of living.

At last he expressed his elation to deliver his speech in Pallava Hall (Hall named after one of the Tamil dynasties) about the art of living with the citations of the lessons by Tamil community and Nature. The 83 students who got this great opportunity were spell bound and more attentive till the closure. The programme came to an end with the vote of thanks by Tamilselvan.J, III ECE, third year youth red society voluteer. The programme was graced by the presence of Head and staff members of ECE department.
